instant
card issuance

convenience at your fingertips

Account holders want premium services from their credit unions. VolCorp's partnership with EFT Source and the instant issuance product gives you the opportunity to exceed their expectations by providing a service your competitors don't.

Cardholders can walk away with a personalized card and use it immediately. Many design options are available to help build your card portfolio, and to help get you started. VolCorp will provide you with one free customized card design. Our encrypted data-transfer process increases both accuracy and security, giving your account holders instant peace of mind.

The sooner the card is used, the faster you realize the benefits, so you'll see increased profitability much sooner.

- Improved member experience
- Turnkey solution (including key management)
- Small and convenient
- PCI Certified
- Self-selected PIN
- Web-based data transfer
- Built-in firewall and router
- No software required

how card@once works

Our patent pending technology, Card@Once®, is quick and flexible. From the time a card order is entered, the process takes under a minute and your cardholder walks away with their card in hand. It's that simple—it's that fast!

1. Enter the customer's information and the card order is submitted via webscreen
2. The data is encrypted and securely transmitted to EFT Source for processing
3. The encrypted data is securely sent to the Card@Once printer, and the card is programmed and printed in seconds
4. Your member leaves the branch with a fully personalized debit or ATM card.

designed for convenience

The printers are designed to be small, sleek and easily integrated into any credit union.
Plus, our printers come with a 3 year warranty—any issue is resolved immediately or the printer is replaced at no charge.
